

Rancho Los Alamitos Long Beach

Rancho Los Alamitos Historic Ranch and Gardens consists of four preserved acres that surrounded the ranch house and barns area of the Bixby Family Ranch in Long Beach, California. The ranch house and the gardens have been preserved for the benefit of the community and to promote education in the history of the site as far back as 500 A.D. The gardens and the grounds will be restored to reflect the Rancho's original site plan which includes the relocating of several barn buildings, blacksmith shop, and corrals. New education facilities are being integrated into and below an existing stable.

kornrandolph is working collaboratively with the Rancho Los Alamitos Foundation and Architectural Resources Group to preserve and restore this valuable landmark.

